To the Public.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble OUT OF IT, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

News Digest.

The gathering at Chicago yesterday, was the largest ever known in that city. The number present is variously estimated at from 75,000 to 100,000. The Wigwam was crowded to overflowing, while the large open space surrounding the building was filled with people, unable to gain admittance.—Senator SEWARD addressed the masses from a platform outside the Wigwam, for an hour and a half. His speech was received with the wildest enthusiasm. The torchlight procession in the evening was the largest demonstration of the kind ever witnessed in the West, no less than ten thousand Wide-Awakes being in the ranks.

The steamship North American, with Liverpool advices of the 20th ult., arrived yesterday. The news from Italy is highly important. The defeat of Gen. LAMORICIERE, by the Sardinians, is confirmed. It was confidently expected that the Pope would leave Rome for Spain, in which event VICTOR EMANUEL would be declared King of all Italy. Breadstuffs are reported firm at the advance reported by the Glasgow.

Hon. ABE LINCOLN met Senator SEWARD at the depot in Springfield, on Monday, and was cordially greeted by him. The Senator paid him a flattering compliment in a subsequent speech—regarding his election as a foregone conclusion.

Hon. JOHN M. BOTTS made a speech at Richmond, Va., on Monday, in which he took the position assumed by H. WINTER DAVIS at Baltimore, declaring for BELL and EVERETT, but opposition to the Democracy at all hazards.

The municipal election in Bridgeport, Conn., on Monday, resulted in a Republican victory. Bridgeport was carried by the Democrats last spring.

Late and interesting news from California and Pike's Peak will be found in our telegraph columns.

Activity in the Grain Trade.

The receipts of wheat in our market yesterday were upwards of 100,000 bushels, and mostly at an advance of 2c. over the ruling prices of the previous day. The shipments for 24 hours ending four o'clock yesterday afternoon, amounted to the round sum of 127,100 bushels. The receipts were 88,118 bushels, exclusive of the deliveries by teams, which for several weeks past must have averaged about 10,000 bushels daily. So great is the preference of farmers for this market, that they frequently carry their wheat here from within six miles of Racine.

Delegates to the Republican County Convention!

It is your duty to-day to make such selections for county officers as will promote the permanent interests of the Republican party. That party demands that you put noble, high-minded men in nomination.—Manhood, not money to-day, gentlemen. We had better be beaten soundly in this contest with a true Republican ticket, than succeed by putting men in nomination whose only qualification is that they will spend money to secure their election. Such men, though nominally Republicans, are yet only for themselves, and their election would do the Republican cause in this city and county irreparable injury. The democrats can put selfish schemers in office with impunity, for Democracy is past the possibility of injury. But Republicans can grind nobody's axes; if they, do their successes are worse than their defeats. Then give us a ticket composed of those men who wait for a nomination to be conferred upon them for their merits, if it is conferred at all, rather than those who fatigue your ears with solicitations and promises.

The Coming Contest in Pennsylvania.

All eyes are turned towards Pennsylvania, in view of the struggle pending over the State election. The public mind is profoundly interested in this issue, for it is well known that the Democrats are resorting to every corrupt agency within their reach to carry that State, as they did in 1856, by fraud. It affords us pleasure to believe that they are to be badly beaten. The evidence upon which that belief is based comes from highly respectable and reliable sources. The Philadelphia North American and Gazette, one of the most conservative, cautious and intelligent journals in the State, speaks confidently of a Republican victory in the Keystone State. It says information from all parts of the interior is as complete as practicable, and extends in detail to most of the counties. The organization is better than for years past, and the enthusiasm inspired by a good cause, and the certainty of coming victory, has no parallel but that of 1840. And in the northwest and western portions of the State, the feeling even exceeds that memorable period. Its confidence in the result is confirmed by all the intelligence from every quarter, and it has the best reason to believe that Mr. CURTIS's majority will range from 15,000 to 20,000, and may far exceed it. His election is beyond doubt by a large majority, the extent of which may be determined by various contingencies. None of them can reduce his strength, and some of them may augment it materially.

MORE CONVERTS.—The Indianapolis State Journal says that at Indianapolis about one hundred German Democrats have declared for LINCOLN and Republican principles within the past month.

The same paper adds that the Connersville German Democratic Club of 1856 changed in a body to LINCOLN, and is now the Republican Club of that place.

DR. JOSEPH FRIEND, who was the American candidate for Congress in the Orange District, New York, two years ago, made a LINCOLN speech a few evenings since. So they come—singly and by batallions.

DANIEL D. HARLEY, a veteran Democrat of Boston until this campaign, is now stumping for LINCOLN and HAMLIN.

J. H. MARTIN, the DOUGLAS nominee for representative in Wayne Co., Ill., has declared that if elected, he will vote for TRUMBULL for United States Senator.

THE MADISON PATRIOT takes down its flaming "$5,000 preminms." This is sensible. Perhaps we pushed our Madison friend a little too close, but it's all right.—We continue our offer.

Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel.

Senator Seward in Kansas—His Reception at Lawrence—The Condition and Prospects of Kansas.

LAWRENCE, KANSAS.
Friday, September 28, 1860.

Aside from the unbooked-for and spirited Republican demonstration in St. Jo, the most interesting incidents of our visit there were the arrival and departure of the Overland Pony Express, from and to California, on the same day. The Register of the Patee House, chronicled both events in this brief fashion:

"The Pony Express left for San Francisco at 8 A. M. (September 23d), JACK KETTLEY, rider."

The Pony Express arrived thro' from San Francisco at 7 P. M. (same day), time, nine and a half days. JOHN FEY, rider."

At Leavenworth City, Kansas, we saw another striking feature in the rapidly increasing means of communication and modes of conveyance, between the States on the Atlantic seaboard and in the Mississippi Valley and the new American communities which have taken possession of the Pacific slope, and are clustering thickly around the base of the Rocky Mountains. This was the constant loading up and departure of huge vans, carrying 6500 pounds of freight and drawn by ten oxen, for Denver City, Utah, New Mexico, &c. The business is already immense, and the number of men, oxen, mules and wagons employed in it startles the mind by its magnitude. It is difficult to realize, until your eyes bear witness to the fact, that a few short years have sufficed to people these vast plains, and establish posts and stopping-places at every ten, or fifteen miles from the Missouri river to Pike's Peak, six hundred miles distant, and beyond to the far-off shores of the Pacific.

We heard at Leavenworth, as we heard nearer home, the usual conflicting stories about the productiveness of the Gold Region, in the vicinity of Pike's Peak. I endeavored to consult the best authorities. The statements of reliable men, who have summered and wintered in this "Land of Promise;" and who, to the best of our judgment, had no motive to misrepresent the facts. From all that I heard, I drew the conclusion that skill, capital, steady labor and the proper machinery, will, for many years, yield ample returns from the gold-bearing quartz of the mountains; but there, as in California, there must always be, among the thousands and ten of thousands of adventurers, many failures to every great success. The climate, however, is healthful, the soil productive, and labor, especial skilled labor, in demand. A large and prosperous State will soon grow up about Denver.

On Tuesday morning all of our party, except Gov. SEWARD, who preceded us on Monday, started for Lawrence in a Pike's Peak express wagon, drawn by four good horses, and driven by an accomplished "whip." The weather was warm and pleasant, and the road an excellent one.—The distance is thirty-five miles, the last twenty five through the "Delaware Reservation," still in the exclusive occupancy of about a thousand of that once celebrated Indian tribe. Our driver was familiar with every part of the route, and pointed out many localities preserving a mournful interest as connected with the early struggles in Kansas for Freedom and the Rights. We saw the spot where a peaceful and unoffending "Free State" man, just emigrated to the territory, had been brutally murdered by a "Border Ruffian," who left Leavenworth with the oath upon his lips, that "he would have the scalp of an Abolitionist before sundown." He accomplished his bloody purpose, and his reward was—not the halter—but a Federal office at the hands of a Democratic National Administration! We saw, too, the grave of a poor Pennsylvanian settler, shot down in his tracks on the prairie, and hard by the log hut of the Delaware chief, TONGENOTZIE, who more merciful than the Missourian invaders, had hidden from their murderous pursuit, two hundred "Free State" men, and after the "Border Ruffians" had passed, conducted them safely to Lawrence. And we heard on every hand similar stories of the dark days when "Squatter Sovereignty," armed with rifle, bowie-knife and incendiary torch, endeavored to force SLAVERY upon the actual settlers of Kansas. Thank God! the villainous project failed, and Kansas stands, and will forever stand, free from the blasting blight and contaminating touch of Slavery.

As we drove across the beautiful rolling prairie of the Indian Reserve, towards Lawrence, we could see, everywhere, too palpable indications of the excessive drouth which has devastated Kansas. Streams and watercourses had disappeared in the earth, and we crossed the dry beds of large creeks, usually difficult to ford. But the vitality of the soil is remarkable, and even in this unprecedentedly dry season, farmers who have plowed deep, are reaping fair crops. There are cattle, too, upon the thousand hills, and in good condition; so that Kansas will not starve; though there are numerous cases of destitution among the poorer settlers and newest comers, which appeal strongly to Eastern benevolence for timely help.

Late in the afternoon of Tuesday we reached Lawrence—the Thermopylæ of Kansas—and were soon comfortably quartered at the Eldridge House. This stands on the very site of the hotel, early built by the Free State men of Kansas, and which having been indicted as a nuisance by a Pro-Slavery grand jury, was cannonaded, pillaged and destroyed by a Pro-Slavery mob, under the direction of Federal office-holders! The story would seem incredible if it were not attested by a thousand living witnesses.

On Wednesday the great demonstration to welcome Senator SEWARD took place at Lawrence. Although the Territory is shrouded in sadness, by reason of the short crops and the hard times, the turn out of the people was very large and the spirit of the meeting most enthusiastic. Gov. SEWARD met with the heartiest possible reception and made a speech which will ring from one end of the continent to the other. The People were also addressed, in the afternoon and evening, by Lt.-Gov. PATTERSON, Gen. NYE and Mr. CHAS. F. ADAMS, Jr. The speakers all seemed inspired by the place and the occasion and spoke with unwonted animation and effect. The evening closed with a supper and ball, at the Eldridge House, in honor of the distinguished guests. The dancing was kept up till early dawn and all present entered fully into the spirit of the hour.—Thursday morning early, parting reluctantly with our kind and hospitable entertainers at Lawrence, we turned our steps backward towards the East, delighted with all that we had seen of Kansas, and strong in the confidence that a few years will see this young, vigorous and beautiful State among the brightest stars in the American galaxy.

H. S. LEE, Secretary Pro Tem.

BANNER PRESENTED.—A beautiful satin banner, splendidly mounted, the gift of four generous and spirited Wide Awakes, was presented to the Club on Monday evening. The presentation was made by GEO. GOUDREY, in a very neat and appropriate speech, which was warmly received and heartily encored by the members of the Club. Mr. OTTERBOURG, on behalf of the Wide Awakes, returned thanks for the banner in a short but telling speech, which was happily conceived and cordially received. We are sure it will be proudly carried—and that, too, to victory.

SENSATION ON EAST WATER STREET.—There was considerable excitement on East Water street yesterday, and last evening. People were seen to gather in a crowd, among which were a number of ladies, and all were intent on the latest and most brilliant novelty. Well, it was a wonder, especially for the Western country. It was unquestionably, superb, and it extracted admiration from all who passed. About 8 o'clock in the evening, it disappeared, and the excitement subsided.

N. B.—The above Item relates to J. L. DAVIS' mammoth show window.

OBITUARY NOTICE—ONE OF THE FRATERNITY GONE.—It is our painful duty to chronicle the loss of a prominent member of the city press. Our lamented friend, MIX, who did the reporting and localizing for the Evening Enquirer, has stepped out of the editorial traces, and become a conductor on the horse railroad. MIX was a man of brilliant genius, and will long be remembered among the poor fellows he has left behind.

THE FUNERAL OF H. W. CHURCHILL was attended, yesterday morning, by Supply Hose Company No. 1, and delegations from a number of companies. Services were performed at St. John's Church, by Rev. DAVID KERNE; from thence the remains were escorted to Spring Street Avenue, and transferred to a Hearse and taken to the town of Summit, for burial, by the side of his parents.

THE LADY ELGIN RELIEF FUND.—The following contributions to this fund, were received to-day, by the hand of Mayor LYNDE:

$25 from New York Lodge No. 336 of Free and Accepted Masons.

$37 from the employees of McCormick's Reaper Factory, Chicago.

H. L. PAGE, Treasurer.
Milwaukee, Oct. 2, 1860.

WAUPUN CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE LADY ELGIN FUND.—The Prison City Item has opened a column for the names of citizens who are desirous of contributing to the surviving sufferers of the Lady Elgin disaster. Already Mr. EUEN has received in small sums the amount of $47. Good for Waupun.

THE SYNOD of the Presbyterian Church in Wisconsin holds its regular annual meeting this week, in the North Presbyterian (Rev. J. M. BUCHANAN'S) Church. Its sessions are open to the public, and will commence this (Wednesday) evening, when a sermon will be preached by the retiring moderator.

SPORT AT THE FAIR GROUNDS TO-DAY.—There will be a general turn out at the Fair Grounds. Considerable tall traveling will be done, and sport will be plenty, as most of the classes to be examined will be tested on speed.

THE BODY OF A FEMALE drifted ashore at the South Point yesterday. It was identified as that of Mrs. DERBY, wife of a driver residing in the Third Ward, and a victim of the Lady Elgin disaster.

WE have received a bunch of Delaware grapes grown by D. C. W. GRANT, Ionia, N. Y., of luscious flavor. They were presented by JAMES S. STICKNEY, of Wauwatosa.

COLD SPRING COURSE.—It is rumored that a race is to come off on Saturday afternoon on this track, between Butcher Boy, trotting horse, and Benicia Boy, pacer; best three in five. $200 stakes. Look out for fun.

First Exhibition of the Wisconsin Agricultural and Mechanical Association.

THE HORSE SHOW.

Yesterday opened fair for the exhibition. The clouds, which had hung over the city for several days, cleared away, and a warm sun shone out. At an early hour, vehicles began to move in the direction of the grounds, and by ten o'clock a numerous assemblage was present.

Owing to the wet weather, the Managers thought it best to prohibit the use of the track, and consequently the day was mostly devoted to the examination of stock in the stalls and in the enclosure by the Judges' stand, by the committee and visitors. The examination was thus set down in the programme, and we believe strictly adhered to:

4 P. M.—A GRAND CAVALCADE.

In Common Council.

The Board of Councillors did actually get through considerable business on Monday night.

They referred a bill of $405 from the undertaker at Chicago for coffins, to the finance committee.

They passed a resolution to pay $1,340 to EDWARD MCGARRY, on estimate of Mr. MIX, to apply on his contract for building the new City Hall.

They also listened patiantly to, and adopted the following:

To the Honorable, the Mayor and the Common Council:

The select committee to whom was referred the communication of the Comptroller, in relation to the notes of the city for $30,000, issued to the Juneau Bank, would state that they are informed by the officers of said Bank that the same are not authorized to enter into any agreement with city, other than to collect the notes, and that the Directors would not consent to any proposition which would in any way reduce the securities they now hold.

Inasmuch as the Bank is secured for these notes by the hypothecation of $50,000 of city bonds, and these notes have from time to time been extended since the first of September, 1857, and measures must now be taken to effect a final settlement. Your committee, in view of the utter impossibility of providing for means to pay at once said indebtedness, and on the other hand, as the Bonds of the city now hypothecated cannot be suffered to be sold at a ruinous price, though your committee are of the opinion that the legality of the act, by which these Bonds were hypothecated might be still successfully contested, would recommend that a proposition should be made to the Juneau Bank, to the effect that the Council would agree to pay for the year 1860 a tax for $10,000, to be included in the tax for a sinking fund, the proceeds of which shall be applied in part payment of the notes and interest aforesaid, provided the Juneau Bank will consent to have $7,500, together with the interest due on the whole of the notes of the city, extended to the first day of February next, and the remaining $22,500 to be extended to the first day of February, 1862, and would submit to that effect the following resolutions:

Resolved, By the Board of Aldermen, the Board of Councilmen concurring, that the Common Council, for and in consideration of an extension to be granted by the Juneau Bank, for the payment of the Comptroller's notes for $30,000 issued to said Bank September 1st, 1857, in the following manner, to wit: $7,500 of said notes, to be extended to the first day of February next, and the remaining $22,500 to the first day of February, 1862; and further, in consideration of an extension to be first day of February, 1862, of the notes for $4,200 issued July 1, 1860, for interest due on the aforesaid notes for $30,000—and in further consideration of a note to be executed of the interest, maturing from October 1st next to February 1st, 1861, on the $30,000 aforesaid, it is agreed with each extension will have been granted, to levy and assess a tax for $10,000, the same to be included in the tax to be levied for the year 1860 for the sinking fund or extinguishment of the city debt, the proceeds of which shall be set apart and applied expressly for the payment of the sum of $7,500 aforesaid on the notes for $30,000 and for the payment of the sum of $2,500 in full for the notes issued for interest up to February 1, 1861, provided that on the payment of the sum aforesaid, the Juneau Bank will surrender to the Common Council $10,000 of the bonds hypothecated with said institution as collateral security.

Resolved, That the City Clerk be and he is herewith directed to furnish the Juneau Bank with an official copy of the above resolution.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 27, 1860.

Resolution adopted.

THEY PISS THE WEST SIDE RAILWAY ORDINANCE.

Select Committee of Councillors from the six Wards on the west side of the river, to whom had been referred a number of horse railway ordinances, reported a substitute to one of the ordinances, and moved its passage. This is the John Davis substitute.

Councillor OBERMANN moved that it be laid on the table.

Councillor ROSMBECK said he had now presented a good, honest ordinance, and he thought it ought to be passed.

Motion to lay on the table lost.

Report by the Select Committee adopted.

The ordinance proposed as a substitute for a horse railway on the west side of the river was here read. The route was from the Fifth Ward, across the Menonionee bridge, through West Water street, and up Third street to the city limits. There were also other branches proposed. The main road to be completed on or before the 1st of September, 1861.

Third reading of the ordinance on the suspension of the rules, and the ordinance adopted.

MILWAUKEE.—The following complimentary allusion to our city is from the Winona Republican, published at the great grain depot of Minnesota, and consequently a place that is closely allied with our city:

"We are pleased to note that the commercial metropolis of Wisconsin is improving, and that her merchants are receiving a large share of the North-Western trade this fall. Our business men find that Milwaukee, at present, is the place to ship and sell their grain and also buy goods of nearly all descriptions. The business men of that place have the means to command a large share of the trade of Minnesota, and it will require but little effort on their part to secure it; and then they will have a business which is naturally tributary to that point, but which is now in part diverted to other places farther south and east. While speaking of Milwaukee, we would say to our business men who wish to subscribe for live western daily papers, that the SENTINEL as a morning paper, or Wisconsin as an evening paper, we can recommend as containing reliable and late commercial intelligence and news."

☞ Read advertisement of LINCOLN'S Commercial College in another column.

WE RE-PRINT the following complimentary notice from the Albany Evening Journal, and add, for the benefit of our readers, that "The Widower's Stratagem," which is dedicated by the author to "Her friends in the North West," is for sale, in this city, by Messrs. STRICKLAND & CO:

"The Widower's Stratagem, or A Circle within a Circle?"—this is the title of a drama in five acts, by Miss Margaret C. Conkling, the daughter of Hon. Alfred Conkling, late Minister to Mexico, and also, formerly, for many years, a resident of this city. It is in every sense an admirable production, whether reference be had to its plot, its choice language, its noble sentiments, or its excellent moral effect. Miss Conkling was educated in this city, is a lady of refined culture and rare gifts, and has achieved for herself a high reputation by her social qualities and by her works. It may not, perhaps, be known to many of our citizens that the "American Gentleman's Guide to Politeness and Fashion," a new and carefully revised edition of which has recently been issued from the press of Derby & Jackson, of New York, and a copy of which should be in the hands of every young gentleman, is the product of her pen. It is understood that she is now engaged in getting out a work of a somewhat similar character for young ladies. "The Widower's Stratagem" will be found fully to sustain her reputation, and will be welcome to her many friends here.

ON SUNDAY EVENING, Sept. 30th, at the first regular meeting which was held by the members of the Milwaukee Catholic Total Abstinence Society, since the calamitous disaster of the Lady Elgin, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, and ordered to be published:

WHEREAS, The following members of this Society, to wit: Cornelius O'Mahoney, Thomas Sheehan, Jeremiah O'Sullivan, John D. Ballard, Patrick Delaney, John Rooney, William Rooney, Stephen Cuddihy, James Cuddihy, Thomas Bullin, Andrew Monahon, Patrick Cline, Patrick Walsh, Patrick Fitzgerald and James Vail, were lost in the heart-rending catastrope of the Lady Elgin, and in view of the high moral character which these gentlemen ever maintained in our midst, therefore,

Resolved, That we sincerely sorrow for the great loss which this society sustains in being thus suddenly deprived of those upright and exemplary members; and,

Resolved furthermore, That this Society deeply sympathizes with the surviving friends and relatives of the deceased, and recommends them to the care of that protecting Providence who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb.

STRUMOUS OR SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS are the curse, the blight, the potatoe rot of mankind. They are vile and filthy, as well as fatal. They arise from contamination and impurity of the blood, and are to be seen all around us everywhere. One quarter of all we meet are tainted with them, and one quarter of these die of them: die foolishly, too, because they are curable. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cleanses out the Scrofulous corruption from the blood, renders it pure and healthy, and effectually expurges the foul contamination from the system. No longer groan under your Scrofulous disorders, since the irresistable AYER has provided his masterly combination of curative virtues that he calls SARSAPARILLA.—Democrat, Waterbury, Ct.

Immediate notice of these appointments should be given by the Republican clubs at the several places designated.

IT IS A CLEAR CASE, that if ABRAHAM LINCOLN is not elected President by the Electoral College, the election will go into Congress. There is no prospect whatever, that any candidate but Mr. LINCOLN will receive the 152 Electoral votes that constitute the majority of the College. And if Mr. LINCOLN should not be elected in the House of Representatives, no one can. Therefore, the question is, shall the people elect Mr. LINCOLN in November, or shall the Senate of the United States elect some one in March.

THE CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER, (Democratic) in speaking of CARL SCHURZ, used the following disgraceful language:—

CARL SCHURZ —This hair-lipped renegade who left his country for his country's good, has been furnished money and means by Black Republicans to stump the country for Lincoln. He is a Red Republican all but his heart, that is black.

All adopted citizens are "hair-lipped renegades" who dare to act on their own free opinions. CARL SCHURZ, to a greater extent than any other of his class, has excited the ire of the "Doughfaces" because of the grandeur of his eloquence and the irresistible power of his logic.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA.—The LINCOLN and HAMLIN demonstration at Pittsburgh, on Thursday last, was by far the largest gathering of the people that has ever been witnessed in Western Pennsylvania in political times. The Gazette believes that the number present was full 100,000, and a more enthusiastic multitude, it says, has never been seen anywhere in the United States.

Speeches were made by Mr. and WADE of Ohio, Ca[illegible]SE. CORWIN WELL, of Va., ARN[illegible]ELL and CAD-COWAN, McC[illegible]A, of Md., and CURTIN, [illegible]CHAEL and COFFEY, of Pa.

COMING OVER.—Two hundred BELL-EVERETT voters in Essex county, N. Y., publish their repudiation of the DOUGLAS-BELL bargain, and declare for LINCOLN and HAMLIN. This is the way fusion works among the people.

In the company of "Abe's Boys" at Connerville, Ind., are fifty old Democrats, all now for LINCOLN.

JOHN HEWETT, of Hewett's Corners, Portage County, Ohio, who has voted the Democratic ticket for forty years, has finally been compelled to dissolve his connection with that party, and he now goes for LINCOLN and HAMLIN.

SEVEN WHITE MEN BURNT TO DEATH BY INDIANS.—A correspondent of the Sacramento Union, writing from Virginia City, gives an account of the burning of NORMAN H. CANFIELD, of Butte county, Cal., and party, by the Washoe Indians. The bodies were subsequently found tied to trees with chains and thongs, and the process of burning had been so slow that the upper portion of the bodies had not been consumed. The whiskers of the victims of this horrible torture were not even singed.

A Massachusetts paper states that a young man named KLEITH, who was terribly maimed some time ago, by the premature discharge of a cannon at Hyannis, has been enabled, by means of artificial hands and forearms, to write, send messages as a telegraph operator, drive a horse and carriage, and perform many other acts requiring muscular agility and skill.

"Contemptible."

EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL:—Under the above caption the Central Wisconsin, in its last issue, is very indignant, and pronounces our account of the great Democratic mass meeting at Wausau, on the 30th ult., as false. The vain endeavor of the Central to prove the falsity of our account as given, shows conclusively, to an unprejudiced mind, the truth of our statement, except that we represented Mr. PARK, as having spoken first, when, in fact, SESSIANS spoke first. Having no desire to mislead the public mind in matters of importance, I beg leave to correct my statement in that respect SESSIANS did speak first, and PARK last, and with this frank acknowledgement of our mistake, on our part, we hope the Central will be as generous, and give us credit for correcting the only error made in our communication.

The addition to the music of the Swinet, the Central admits, but charges it to have been a Republican performance, and as proof says that the performer "was pretty well slewed." Now if this be evidence of Republicanism, we must conclude that the great majority who formed the procession on that occasion were either Republicans, or strongly leaning that way, and especially the editor of the Central would have been taken as one of the strongest. I hope the Central will give us credit for truth in saying that the "Transparencies" procured on that occasion are not paid for, and that strange talk has been had in the "Club" about repudiating that debt since the great demonstration.

Yours, for
DOUGLAS' MOTHER.

P. S. We are not one of the "faithful six" as yet, but have made application for admission, and have the assurance of being admitted if we keep sober through one more Democratic demonstration. We shall try it.

D. M.

A SAMPLE OF SMOKE FROM THE DOUGLAS ENGINE.—"The speeches which he (Douglas) has made this summer are among the ablest of his life, and are among the finest contributions to American eloquence."—Cin. Enquirer.

Yes—the stale emptyings of an old Harper's Magazine article—the soup maigre of "the great principle of popular sovereignty" watered down to thin gruel; the mere rinsings of the human intellect—are "among the finest contributions to American eloquence!" God help "American eloquence," if Mr. Douglas is a sample of its best style! Out of the whole wilderness of his speeches, the sharpest scrutiny cannot discover one memorable line.

"Such has been their ability and force that hardly a comment or unfriendly criticism has been made upon them by the sharpest of the Republican organs, who, of course, have been on the lookout for flaws and imperfections."—Enquirer.

Just so—because journals which have got brains don't follow Douglas' example, and repeat every threadbare and hackneyed argument three times a day for every day in the year—therefore the wretched sophisms and worn out platitudes of Douglas are unanswerable! There's logic for you—worthy of a Douglas organ. The poverty-stricken intellect of the leader has infected the followers to that degree, that they are incapable of reasoning, and can only pour out a dribble of adulteration or abuse,

"In one weak, washy, everlasting flood."

—Cin Commercial.

THE EFFECT OF DOUGLAS' TOUR THROUGH OHIO.—If the tour of Douglas through Indiana has like results with that he has just finished in Ohio, we congratulate our friends there, on the important aid they are about to receive. So far from making any converts here, Douglas—all the more for the magnitude of the crowds to which he showed himself—has dampened the ardor of his supporters. He has improved our prospects about 5,000 votes. Douglas is very nearly played out. Johnson will give the finishing touch next week, if he will only repeat his insolent Pittsburg speech. The work goes bravely on.—Cincinnati Gazette.

RECENTLY there was a political meeting at Woodbury, Tennessee. Gen. Bate spoke for Breckinridge "What will you do with Yancey?" rudely asked one of his hearers. "We have put him in a pen made of rails split by Abe Lincoln, to keep him from soaring such men as you out of your boots and breeches." Roars of laughter. The questioner raised his stick and shook it at the General, who snatched up a glass tumbler, and hurling it at the questioner, shivered it upon him amid enthusiastic applause. The Bate Democracy was triumphant.

AN IOWA paper is in want—harken thereunto:

WANTED.—At this office on subscription, a WOOD PILE. Two or three bushels of wild grapes. A bushel of hazel nuts, ditto hickory ditto. Anything that we can eat Anything that we can wear. Anything that we can pay the printer with. Anything that we can dicker for something that will answer any of these purposes.

Also, just a little cash.

NOT WANTED.—Another cheese that is "instinct with life"—or rather that is "a thing of life."

Another cheese that needs to be buttered to re-unite the elements that never should have been seperated.

Lastly, not wanted, more cash than we can spend honestly.—Mt. Vernon News.

BUSINESS AT WINONA.—The Republican says:—

"Our streets present now-a-days an appearance of business activity which must be very encouraging to our people who have adopted Winona as a home. The merchants are busy receiving mammoth stocks of goods—the hotels are nightly crowded with strangers and friends from the interior—the mechanics all find plenty of employment at fair wages, and even 'poor printer devils' are inclined to rejoice in the prospect of 'fat takes' before the kindling of winter fires."

FATAL MISTAKE.—One of those terrible casualties which startle us as from a dream of security, occurred in Wood County a few days ago. Samuel Hiles, Esq., was hunting, and seeing an object through some brush, mistook it for a deer, and with fatal aim, fired, killing a man instantly, the ball passing directly through his head. We have not been able to learn his name; he was a German and a young man of industrious habits. We know Mr. Hiles, and believe he realized all those painful emotions, which a person of a generous and impulsive nature would feel, upon being the innocent cause of so terrible a calamity.—Wis. Pinery, Sept. 28.

FOUR MORE BODIES RECOVERED.—Yesterday four bodies came ashore and were recovered [illegible] from the Lake—one about eight mile[illegible] north of Waukegan, one at Rockland, and two at Highland Park. The Coroner of Lake Co. held inquests on the two last mentioned, which, from their clothing and general appearance, are supposed to have belonged to the crew of the schooner St. Mary. All the above bodies were those of men.—Chicago Journal, of Monday.

A SON of Sheriff Saxton, aged some ten years, was bitten by a rattlesnake last week, and owing to the length of time intervening before medical attendance was secured, the virus of the reptile had made rapid and serious progress, so much so that his life for a time was despaired of. Under the skillful treatment of Dr. Markham, however, he is now out of danger.—Juneau Co. Argus.

AUSTRIA continues to make warlike preparations; she is fortifying the forts of Venice, augmenting the garrison of that city, and recalling all the military in furlough. Four regiments have been quietly sent into the famous quadrilateral, 124 guns, chiefly rifled, were on the way to Venice or the Northern Tyrol, and the Trieste Railroad will soon be exclusively devoted, as in 1859, to the transportation of troops and munitions of war.

THE PROCESS of keeping accounts among the Norway lumbermen, is of unique style. The book-keeper, after comparing accounts with the workmen, sends him to the cashier with the amount due to him chalked on his back; and when the cashier has paid him, he takes his receipt himself by brushing off his chalk marks.

A VISITOR to the Poet Tennyson writes: "He spoke in terms of warmest praise of Chas Sumner's recent speech in the Senate, and added: The most eloquent thing as I thought, in the whole speech, was the unspoken thing—the silence about his own story."

THE BOSTON POST thus postizes fusion:

Cries Green to Wood, "Or talk I'm sick!
Pray have you fused or not? Speak quick!"
"Yes," answers Wood, with look amused,
"We fused and then—" "What then?" "Defused."

A CLUB OF FRENCH WIDE AWAKES, five hundred strong, has been formed in New York.

Mr. Lincoln at Home.

Correspondence of the Missouri Republican.

CHICAGO, Sat., Sept 22, '60.

Happening at Springfield, Ill., yesterday, the home of the Republican candidate for President, an hour was pleasantly passed at his room in the capitol. During that hour, visitors, ladies and gentlemen, called upon him from almost every State in the Union; and we were all greeted with a most cordial welcome by this man of the people. Not a State but has thus been represented, showing that the high esteem in which Mr. Lincoln is held, is confined to no section of the Union. Mr. L.'s health and spirits are excellent; and though not quite so embrowned as when canvassing the State with Mr. Douglas, he is less lean than usual, and certainly looks as though he would not easily wither and die, even in the hotbed of the President's house.

So far as the necessary courtesy to Mr. Lincoln's numerous visitors will allow him time, he is fully posted on the political movements of the day, and expresses himself freely and manfully upon them. The qualities of mind and heart he possesses will not let him speak unfavorably, even of his opponents. That he will imitate any of them in taking the stump, however many votes he might secure thereby, is entirely opposed to the true and noble modesty of the man. This alone should make him the choice of the people. Of course, with his correct view of this matter, we will not expect to see him at our Fair and he has written to its managers accordingly. Is Mr Lincoln afraid to go South? Not a bit of it. As we supposed, there is not a word of truth in the story of his declining to visit his birthplace in Kentucky for fear of any violence. The story is made of whole cloth. He fears not to visit any part of the South, and he will doubtless avail himself of many invitations to make such visits, after the campaign is over.

Mr. Lincoln, though an excellent lawyer, does not lay much claim to military renown. It seems, however, he was captain of a company who marched into the Indian country for the defense of the frontier during the Black Hawk troubles. He, and Messrs. Edwards, and O. H. Browning of Quincy, who were all participants in that Indian warfare, were yesterday talking, as soldiers will, over the results of the campaign.

It was interesting, as well as amusing, to hear Mr. L. talking, as few men can, on all the most difficult political topics, one minute making you wish the whole nation could hear his liberal and clearly expressed views, and the next causing violent bursts of laughter, in which he heartily joined, at some ludicrous and well-told anecdote. He can not only discuss ably the great democratic principle of our government, but at the same time tell how to navigate a vessel, maul a rail, or even to dress a deer-skin. In speaking of the leading speakers of the nation, Mr. L. regards Carl Schurz as one of the foremost; and it was a pleasing recollection to know the majority of the members of the Congressional working Committee, who served with Mr. Lincoln, are to-day actively advocating Republican principles. Among these we recollect but the names of Judge Embree, of Indiana, and Mr. Root, of Ohio.

Anecdote of Old Ironsides.

The following is familiar to many of our readers, but it is so well calculated to make the rising generation proud of the noble spirits who shed so much lustre on their country's name during the memorable war of 1812, with the then proud mistress of the seas, that it will bear republication at least once a year, as long as patriots are able to subdue conspirators.

The most brilliant naval action of the last war, was undoubtedly that of the old American frigate Constitution (44), commanded by Commodore STEWART, when she captured the two British corvettes, Cyane and Levant, of greatly superior force, each of them being equal to the old fashioned thirty-three gun frigates. The handling of the American frigate was throughout scientific and unexceptionable.

By no manœuvring could either of the British vessels obtain a position to rake the Constitution. Shift their ground as they would, Old Ironsides was between them, blazing away upon both vessels at the same time. During the whole action, Stewart, instead of mounting the horseblock, sat in a more exposed situation astride the hammock nettings, the better to observe the manœuvering of his antagonists. The Cyane was the first to strike to Brother Jonathan—not an unusual thing with British vessels during that war. The first lieutenant came in haste to the Commodore to announce the fact.

"The starboard ship has struck, sir," said the officer.

"I know it, sir," replied the Commodore. "The battle is just half won."

"Shall I order the band to strike up 'Yankee Doodle,' sir?" inquired the lieutenant.

Here the Commodore took a huge pinch of snuff, and then answered quickly—

"Had we not better whip the other first, sir?"

"Ay, ay, sir," replied the lieutenant, taking the hint, and went to his quarters.

In a short time afterward, the Levant lowered the cross of Old England to the stars and stripes, and the battle was ended. The lieutenant being somewhat rebuked at his premature exultation upon the surrender of the first vessel, was rather shy of approaching his commander again; but Stewart, beckoning to him, said, with a smile—

"Don't you think the band had better strike up 'Yankee Doodle' now, sir?"

In an instant that spirit-stirring strain was floating on the breeze, played as no other than a Yankee band can play it, and the gallant crew shouted forth their cheers of victory as no other than a Yankee crew can shout.

WHAT THE JEWS HAVE DONE THE LAST YEAR.—The Jewish Messenger sums up what the professors of the Hebrew faith have accomplished, as an ecclesiasticism, during the past year, 5620 of the Jewish calendar.

The Messenger adverts with a spirit of gladness to the progress of liberal ideas and the tolerance extended towards the Jews of Europe during the year past. A Jewish literature seems not to flourish here, but two books having been printed in Hebrew on this side of the Atlantic during the year past, though in Europe the labors of Auerbach, Philippsohn, Stauben, &c., are eminently appreciated.

Five new congregations have been organized during the year, viz: One at Portland, Oregon; one at St. Joseph, Mo., and two in New York; one at New Brunswick, N. J. The number of conversations of new synagogues rather exceeds the average. Places of worship have been dedicated at Fort Wayne Ind.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Macon, Ga.; Plaquemine, La.; Montreal, Canada East; Philadelphia, Penn.; two at Cincinnati, O.; Brooklyn, Long Island, and three in New York.

The Hebrew Benevolent Society has established an Orphan Asylum in New York. One also has been established in Charleston, S. C. The recent disturbances in Morocco and Syria did not affect the Jews particularly.

In Morocco they received a ready protection from Moorish vengeance, and are now peacefully enjoying their usual immunities. In Palestine the Hebrews were not disturbed at all by the contending factions of Moslems and Christians.

The Messenger says, in closing its summary: We cannot claim that our community as a whole, has progressed as it should. There has been, we are obliged, to our regret, to confess, no improvement in the religious spirit of our co-religionists; and on this point we forbear to speak more at length.

The political status is probably better than when we entered on the year which has just come to a close; their social position about the same.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from the Ohio State Fair, closes with the "JASSACKS.

Here I am stumped. I don't like the critter. Was kicked by one on the Isthmus once, and have had a sensnner at the breed ever since. I think there's money in them, and am glad to report that Buckeye breeders are paying increasing attention to them. It is asserted here that the display is very good for Ohio. Bye-the-bye, did you ever observe that the bray of this animal, and the grunt of a hog, furnishes the leading strains in the 'Anvil Chorus?' Fact. W. D. B."

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills.

HOW STRANGE AND WONDERFUL it often seems to us that a medicine composed of simple mountain herbs and roots, should so certainly search out and cure disease. How surprising that the Indians should know and preserve so long and well a secret that has escaped the search of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen. True, the ancient inhabitants of Mexico were a strange race, found by the Spaniards living in large cities, and allowing for their strange customs and religion as well civilized as their conquerors. In the words of a writer of some celebrity, "They have perished from the earth, their cities are gigantic piles of ruins, their Kings and Princes so mighty in their life, are forgotten; their ruins and their medicine alone are left." The united testimony of all intelligent persons is that JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are the most successful medicine in the world in curing disease.

BILL PAID.

BY HENRY P. LELAND.

Bill met fair Kitty in the lane—
A think,
Or think;
I think
She winked again!

He put his arm around her waist—
A pout!
No doubt,
At such good taste.

Her little hand caught him so quick—
A scratch
He'll snatch
His match,
And lose the trick.

Then, with her other hand, she gave—
A cuff!
That's rough
Enough,
And showed her brave.

She said: "I won't!" then held so still—
A kiss!
All this
Sweet bliss
Paid every ill—
Paid Bill!

THE CONTRAST.

You look to the future, on, above;
I only look in the past.
You are dreaming your first dream of love,
And I have dreamed my last.

You watch for feet that are yet to tread
With yours on a shining track;
I hear but the echoes, dull and dead,
Of feet that come not back.

You are passing up the flowery slope
I left so long ago;
Your rainbows shine through the drops of hope,
And mine through the drops of woe.

Night glides in its visions sweet away,
And at morn you live them o'er;
From my dreams, by night and by day,
I have waked to dream no more.

You are reaching forth with a spirit glad
To the hopes that are still untried;
I am burying the hopes that I had,
That have slipped from my arms and died.

And I pray that the blessedest things there be
On thy future may descend;
But, alas, for mine! It were well for me
If I made a pea ceful end!

TALE OF THE LAND OF FLOWERS.

BY CAROLINE LEE HENTZ.

(CONCLUDED.)

One morning preparations were making to send a quantity of ammunition to another fort. Lieut. Willard, a very young and interesting officer, commanded the expedition. About thirty soldiers were to escort him.

The morning was clear and resplendant, the air, bland and elastic, received fresh from the sea from breezes that came wafting from the coast. Lelia stood on the ramparts, her cheeks glowing with unusual excitement.

"Let me go," cried she to her husband, whose arms were linked with hers. "Let us go on horseback and accompany them. It is such a charming morning"

"I cannot go," he answered. "I am obliged to remain at the fort. I wish I could go for your sake, my Lelia. You must be weary of your confined and lonely life."

"Oh, no!" she eagerly replied. "I never should be weary where you are. It was a childish wish. It is past already."

The young lieutenant approached the commander with his plumed hat in his hand, and thus addressed him:

"Let me escort your wife," said he. "I shall be proud of the honor, and will ensure her safe return."

"Shall it be so, Lelia?" said Clifford, looking into her now animated blue eyes, and reading her answer there. "Go then and make ready with all possible haste, for the morning hours are waning."

Let the young maiden who perchance may read the sad but true history tremble at the consequence of filial disobedience. God sooner or later avenges the violation of his sacred laws. She may not, like Lelia, perish by the death-shot of the Indians, but she may be reserved for a fate more mournful still—the slow wasting away of the heart, under the blighting influence of unkindness or perfidy. As she has forsaken her parents, she may be herself forsaken and betrayed. Lelia was sweet, lovely, gentle and guileless, but she yielded to the dictates of passion, and exposed herself to the terrible doom we have recorded.

Yes, she was indeed lovely. Never shall we forget the soft, beseeching, pensive expression of her prophetic eyes, the tones of her sweet, plaintive voice.

We are reminded of the words of Ossian: "Sweet is the memory of departed friends. Like the mellow rays of the setting sun, it falls tenderly, yet sadly, on the soul."

Lelia flew away with the joyous step of youth, while Clifford commanded his riding horse to be caparisoned and brought near. Lelia soon returned in a riding costume, whose dark blue color set off to peculiar advantage her blonde complexion and fair hair. A small black hat, with black drooping feathers, was placed carefully on her head, and heightened by contrast her transcendent fairness and rosate bloom. Never had the dark eye of Clifford rested on her so lovingly, so admirably, as it did after placing her on the back of the spirited animal, adjusting the stirrups and placing the bridle in her slender hand, which he pressed, ere he relinquished it, with a lover's ardor.

"Lieutenant," said he, before giving the signal for his departure, "remember you have a precious charge committed to your care—guard it with a soldier's vigilance."

"I will guard it with my life," said the young soldier, with a bright flush and beaming smile, little dreaming that he was uttering the words of prophecy.

Capt. Clifford stood watching the party as long as it was in sight. Lelia was mounted on a milk white horse, Lieut Willard on a coal black one. Again and again Lelia looked back, kissing her hand to her husband, and gayly smiling. When he could no longer catch a glimpse of her black plumes waving in the breeze of the morn, he turned away with a sigh.

"Should any evil befall her," thought he, "I never should forgive myself for suffering her to depart. But impossible—the Indians are driven from this vicinity, and she is nobly guarded."

In the meantime Lelia went on her way rejoicing, thoughtless of danger and exhilarated by exercise. The young Lieutenant charmed her by dwelling on her husband's praises, which were music to her ear. Then he talked to her of his mother and sisters, till her eyes overflowed at the remembrance of her own.

All at once young Willard drew his horse nearer to hers, and bent his ear in a listening attitude. They were passing a dense thicket, and he heard a kind of hissing sound, which was immediately followed by a fierce, savage whoop.

Lelia, struck with deadly fainting, threw her arms around the horses neck, and buried her face in the flowing mane. Young Willard sprang to the ground with the speed of lightning, and taking Lelia from the saddle tried to place her in the ammunition wagon, where she could be sheltered from the ambuscaded fire of the Indians, who were now rattling their shot from the thicket. Before he could reach the wagon she received a death wound in her bosom, and he fell wounded and gasping at her side.

The soldiers, in the meantime, discharged a volley on the sheltered savages, which probably sent them into a deeper covert; for they ceased their firing, leaving behind them two youthful victims to their indiscriminate vengeance. Thank Heaven that, intimidated by the fierceness of the soldiers, they had not dared to approach with the terrible scalping knife! She was insensible when she received the death wound, and passed unconsciously to the shadowy confines of the spirit world. She suffered all the agonies of death when the horrible yell burst upon her ear.

In that moment, father, mother, sister, native home, dearly loved, remembered scenes—all rose before her with life like vividness; then her husband standing on the ramparts waving his hand in token of adieu, with a beaming smile; then the dreadful conviction that it was the last glimpse of life and love that would ever be here; then all was darkness.

The horses which had borne Lelia and Willard, dispossessed of their riders, rushed back to the fort. Clifford read a tale of horror in their empty saddles and loose flowing bridles. Mounting one, he rode with the speed of an eagle, to the fatal spot. The unfortunate Willard still lived, though life was fast ebbing away. He was supported in the arms of the soldiers, who gazed alternately on his pale and altering features and the beautiful boy reclining near. What a spectacle for a young and adoring husband! There she lay—his fair young bride—whom he had lured from her happy home only to be the victim of the red man's wrath. No mark of violence was visible; no blood oozed from the wound which had closed as soon as it was made. Her hat had fallen from her head and lay with broken feather on the ground. Her long, fair hair, loosened and flowing, streamed around her in the bands of paly gold and glistened with mournful lustre on her dark riding dress. The glow of life still lingered on her cheek; but her eyes—those large, loving, pensive, blue eyes, now half closed, were fixed and glassy.

"Captain," murmured the expiring lieutenant, "I would die happy could I have saved your wife. Oh, my captain, it is you who die!"

Clifford, who stood as if transfixed, gazed on his slaughtered wife and dying friend, here uttered a loud and bitter cry and threw himself by the side of her whom he would have died to ransom from death. He folded his arms around her, and covered her cold lips and cheeks with kisses, such as joy never knew." He called upon her, by every fond and endearing name to look at him, to speak and to tell him that she lived.

In the midst of his frantic adjurations the soul of the brave young Willard passed to the presence of its God. Oh! for a mother's bosom, on which he could have pillowed his fainting head! Oh! for a sister's arm to support his sinking frame! But the soldier's death pillow is the cold ground, and his last sigh is breathed up to the heavens bending over him.

We will not attempt to describe the anguish of the unhappy Clifford. For a time it threatened to unthrone his reason, heightened as it was by the bitterest remorse. A dreadful task awaited him—to write to her parents and inform them of the mournful tragedy. This being done, he felt as the criminal does while the doom he dreads is impending over him. He expected to be looked upon in the light of a murderer; for, had it not been for him, Lelia might still be warm with life, and youth and joy. With trembling hands he broke the letter which came in reply to his, communicating the fatal tidings. It contained no word of reproach, no language of bitterest remorse. It entreated him to come back, bearing with him all that was left of the ill fated Lelia; to come and take a son's place in their darkened house and sorrowing hearts.

Captain Clifford obtained a furlough, and fulfilled the wishes of the mourning parents. It was a sad meeting, but reconciliation, born of sorrow, made it hallowed.

Embalmed by the tears of her young companions, the remains of Lelia were deposited in her native soil. Remembrance of her fault was lost in pity for her untimely doom. They could not speak harshly of one who had expiated her disobedience by her life.

"Had I only forgiven her?" was the burden of her father's heart. "Oh! had I only forgiven?"

Yes! fallible and erring beings that we are, let us forgive as we pray to be forgiven by our Father in Heaven. Let not pardon be delayed till the heart it would have gladdened is cold beneath the clod of the valley. The relenting voice cannot penetrate the deep, dark abyss of the grave. No one over mourned for having followed the example of Him who forgave even his murderers with his expiring breath; but how many have sorrowed when too late, over inexorable will, and the severe, though just decree!

MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL, WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 3, 1860.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Later from California.

FT. SMITH, ARK. Oct. 1.

The overland mail, with San Francisco dates to Sept. 10, arrived this morning at an early hour.

Among the passengers was Chas. L. Bissell, of Chicago, and H. H. Cooper, of Albany, N. Y.

The telegraph line was completed within three miles of Los Angeloss, at the time the mail passed.

Two men were found dead at Hollandsville Station, about 35 miles north of Angeles. They were supposed to have been killed by two Mexicans on horseback, with whom they were known to have had a difficulty about a dog.

A serious accident happened to the mail coach near Fort Tejon—the stage was driven into a ravine, and in descending turned a double somersault. The driver was killed, and the conductor and one passenger seriously, though not dangerously, injured. They were left at Fort Tejon.

On the evening of the 18th of September, a body of Apache Indians numbering about 100, broke into the Cornell at Sutton Station, 150 miles east of Fort Yulas. The attack was made while the horses were being removed from the corral. The passengers and station keeper fired on the Indians with a shower of arrows. The party then retreated within the station and renewed their fire upon the savages. An Indian was shot by a passenger while in the act of setting fire to the house. The fight continued about one hour, when the Indians retired, taking with them four of the horses of the mail company; their loss was about 20 killed and wounded. None of the defending party were injured except the station keeper, Mr. Sutton who was hit in the face with an arrow. The Indians made no attack upon the passengers until they were fired upon. Their sole object was to secure the horses. They had possession of the stage about one hour without disturbing the mail or baggage in the least.

Troops of miners returning from Membres river, were met at Desert Hill. They report the Allegord gold and silver discoveries a humbug.

One party reported that miners engaged about forty miles south of Membres station, were taking out $4 per day to the man. This statement is said to be fully confirmed. The passengers confirm the previous report in relation to the flight of the Texas burners.

The road north of Red River is said to be lined with wagons. The excitement in Northern Texas continues unabated. All suspected persons are warned away.

Further by the Glasgow.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 1.

The weather in England had been rainy, but was again finer at the sailing of the Glasgow.

An official letter from the Foreign Office says that Mr. Lindsay has no authority to negotiate with the American government relative to the shipping interests.

The Paris Bourse was heavy. Rentes 67f 90c.

The Sardinians took Perugia after a hard fight, and made 1500 prisoners, including Gen. Schmidt. The citadel of Spoletto had capitulated, and the garrison, 600 strong, taken prisoners. The Sardinians had occupied numerous other places.

Gen. Cialdini was advancing against Ancona.

The late Neapolitan fleet had arrived to assist him in the attack on that place.

There was an unconfirmed rumor that the Pope had fled from Rome. The event was generally speculated upon.

There were also unconfirmed rumors that Lamoriciere, with 20,000 men, was marching towards the Neapolitan frontiers, with a view of effecting a junction with the Neapolitan troops.

It was reported that Garibaldi was exclusively occupied in organizing an army and navy, the former to consist of 150,000, while 500 vessels are made for war purposes.—There were indications that he intended going to Venetia.

Kossuth was expected at Naples.

The only foreign ministers remaining at Naples were the British, French, Sardinian and American. The latter was very unwell.

Gen. Scitori was appointed commander of the army in the Dictator's absence.

A Russian envoy had arrived at Vienna with a formal invitation to the Emperor of Austria to visit Warsaw.

Several officers of high rank had been shot at Damascus.

The Bombay August mail would probably be forwarded by the Aragon from Southampton, 19th, for New York. The news had not transpired.

The advices from Manchester were favorable. The market was quiet, but producers were firm.

Arrival of the Pony Express.

ST. JOSEPH, Oct. 1—3 P. M.

The Pony Express arrived last night with dates to Sept. 19.

The Oregon Legislature met at Salem on the 10th. The House was organized by choosing Benjamin Harding, (Douglas Democrat) who, at the last two elections, voted for Logan, (Republican) for Congress, as Speaker; T. McSpatten, (Rep.) Chief Clerk; Allen, (Douglas Dem.) Assistant Clerk; Sweargo, (Rep.) Sergeant-at-arms.

The Senatorial organization of the Assembly was regarded by the Breckinridge members as an indication that a Douglas-Republican coalition was already formed to elect Col. Baker and S. W. Nesmith, senators.

The constitution of Oregon requires two-thirds of all the members elected to each house to form a quorum to do business. Upon receiving the news of the organization of the House, six of the Breckinridge Senators bolted—absconding from Salem early on the morning of the 11th, leaving that body without a quorum, and in that conditon it has continued up to the latest accounts.

The names of the Senators who withdrew are Florence, Monroe, Berry, McHenry, Fitzhugh and Shelby. The latter is a son-in-law of Gen. Lane.

A resolution was passed by the Senate empowering the sergeant-at-arms to compel the attendance of absent members.

A miner named Woodside, while digging near Weaverville, found a piece of gold worth $800.

The next day, while digging near the same spot, he was instantly killed by the bank caving in upon him.

Upwards of $3,500 has been taken out of Mount Ophir claim, in Tuolumna, on the 7th inst.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—3 P. M.

The Tammany Congressional Convention nominated J. W. Chanley, in the 5th District and Adolpho Wolfe, in the 7th.

Unpleasant rumors were circulated yesterday touching one of our city banks. The Directors attempted to remove the President, but instead of yielding, he demanded an increased salary as a condition of remaining.

The races announced to come off to-day on the Fashion Course, are postponed until Thursday.

The Artesan's Bank is closed to-day.

Ex-Gov. Johnson at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2—3 P. M.

Ex-Gov. H. V. Johnson addressed the Democracy last night in Sixth street, Market Place. He advocated principle of non-intervention. A Republican asked him whether he considered Lincoln's election sufficient cause for a dissolution of the Union, to which he replied emphatically, "No." The meeting was very large and enthusiastic.

Election in Northern Michigan.

Botts' Speech.

RICHMOND, Oct. 2—3 P. M.

John M. Botts made a speech last evening, four hours long. He took substantially the same grounds as H. Winter Davis, declaring for Bell and Everett, but opposition at all hazards to Democracy. He denounced secession, declaring that should it be attempted, 300,000 volunteers would rush to the rescue, without calling upon a single free State.

Meeting of Hon. Abraham Lincoln and Senator Seward.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 1.

Mr. Lincoln met Mr. Seward at the train, and was greeted by him in the most cordial manner, and afterwards alluded to him in his speech in very complimentary terms—the Senator regarding his election as a foregone conclusion.

IMPORTANT FOREIGN NEWS

FARTHER POINT, Oct. 2—3 P. M.

The steamship North American, from Liverpool 20th, via Londonderry 21st, passed here at 3 o'clock this morning, bound for Quebec. She was boarded by the news boats of the Associated Press, and a summary of her news obtained.

The news is quite important, confirming the report of the Glasgow, off Cape Race, of the defeat of Gen. Lamoriciere by Gen. Cialdini. The battle lasted three hours, and afterwards the greater portion of the Pontifical army capitulated. Lamoriciere escaped to Ancona.

Considerable uneasiness was felt in Paris of a collision between the French troops at Rome, and Garibaldi's legions.

The hope of more serious complications being avoided, was chiefly founded on the expectation that the Pope would shortly leave Rome.

The Sacred College will extend their influence to induce him to seek an asylum in Spain or Austria. If the Pope departs, the French would follow his example, and the Sardinians would at once occupy Rome.

It was reported that Gen Guyon's forces would be increased to 20,000 men.

The Times says the Papal army no longer exists, for the 40,000 men besieged in Ancona may already be reckoned on as General Cialdini's prisoners.

The Herald says the Papal army has been defeated, but not dishonored. Lamoriciere was evidently outnumbered, and his forces ill organized, and were no match for a regular army, led by able commanders. The Principal says the result of the recent battle is to transfer the King of Sardinia, and the whole Roman territory to Venetia and Civita Vecchia.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 21—via telegraph to Londondery.—Breadstuffs, flour and wheat sold at full Tuesday's prices; corn firm and held higher, mixed and yellow 35s. Weather favorable for cheap provisions.

Later from Pike's Peak.

ST. JOSEPH, Oct 2—3 P. M.

Denver City dates to the 24th of September are received.

The Express only brought a little over $1,000 in dust, but much more was in the hands of passengers.

The coach met officers with Gordon, the murderer, 180 miles this side of Denver. It is thought he will be taken from the hands of the officers before reaching that city, and hung.

The citizens of Denver met in Mass Convention on the 23d, and adopted a provisional government, under which they hope in future to enjoy all the blessings a good government can afford.

The election of officers for the ensuing six months was to have been held Sept. 29th.

A chunk of gold weighing $191 is reported to have been taken from the American gulch, on the head waters of Blue River.

The Gaid gulch bids fair to rival the celebrated Georgia gulch in the same neighborhood.

A new silver lead has been discovered between the Arkansas and Platte rivers.

From New Mexico.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 1.

The New Mexican mail with dates to the 17th, arrived last evening.

Rogers, who was condemned to be hung, suffered the extreme penalty of the law on the 4th. A correspondent states that it was the most cruel sight he ever witnessed—the prisoner being on the ground and witnessed the preparations for his judicial murder.—He persisted to the last that the act was done in self-defence, and that witness for the State swore falsely.

The preparations for a war of extermination against the Indians is progressing finely, both by the regulars and volunteers.

The crops will be very short, and high prices for the necessaries of life are anticipated.

No news from the plains of importance.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Additional by the North American.

FARTHER POINT, Oct. 2—9 P. M.

The submarine cable intended to connect Algiers and Toulon, will be landed at Modica, to establish a communication between Algiers and Paris, via Spain.

CAGLIARI, Sept. 18.—Garibaldi has appointed Signor Gaffi, pro-Dictator of Sicily. Baron Brener will leave Naples on Thursday next.

It is rumored that Mazzini has arrived at Naples.

Garibaldi will leave to-morrow for Capua.

The journal Armonia, of Florence, has been seized for publishing an article insulting to the Emperor of the French.

Lamoriciere's defeat will hasten the departures from Gaeta of King Bomba.

The London Herald Paris correspondent is informed that a manifesto by the Pope, announcing his determination to withdraw from Rome, is already prepared.

The battle of the 18th, between Lamoriciere and Cialdini, lasted six hours. After the battle the greatest portion of the pontifical army capitulated. The foreign troops will return to their respective countries. Lamoriciere, with a few horsemen, succeeded in reaching Ancona. Outside of Ancona there is not a single pontifical battalion.

There was a vague report in Paris that Napoleon would attend the Imperial meeting at Warsaw; the following despatch reached Turin. "Genl, September 8th.—Lamoriciere with 12,000 men, attacked to-day the position lately taken by Cialdini, at Castle Fidelco. The fight was short but desperate, with the following results. The junction of Lamoriciere's corps, with the remainder of his troops at Ancona, is prevented.—Six hundred prisoners have been made; six pieces of artillery and a flag taken. Menobenti fell into the hands of Cialdini. The loss of the enemy is considerable.

A column of lasomen made a sortie from Ancona and took part in the fight, but was compelled to retire, and were followed by the Sardinian troops.

The Neapolitan fleet opened fire against Ancona.

The 600 prisoners of war taken at Spolette are Irishmen. The Sardinian Government wished the British minister to take charge of them and send them home, but he declined, saying that he did not regard them as British subjects.

No foreign minister had been ordered to quit Turin, except the French.

Advices from Turin assert that a letter had been addressed by Garibaldi to Victor Emanuel demanding the immediate dismissal of Cavour and Farini. He also demanded 30,000 Sardinian soldiers to garrison Naples.

Garibaldi's letter is couched in respectful but energetic terms.

The above conditions are specified by Garibaldi as a sine qua non of good understanding between Parma and Piedmont.

The King immediately, despatched a note to Garibaldi, but its contents are not known.

The ministry will communicate to the Sardinian Parliament the demands of Garibaldi, and request its approval of their conduct. Should this approval be withheld, the cabinet will resign. If Garibaldi's request is granted, the King will place him at the head of his army, and march for Naples.—Much agitation prevails at Turin.

TWO DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER CANADA.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 2—9 P. M.

The steamship Canada, from Liverpool, on Saturday, Sept. 22d, via Queenstown 23d, passed Cape Race at 3½ o'clock on Monday night, en route to Halifax and Boston.

The Canada was boarded by the news yacht of the Associated Press, and the following summary of her news obtained:

The steamship Prince Albert, from New York, via St. Johns, arrived at Galway on the 21st.

The steamship Africa, from New York, arrived at Liverpool on the 23d.

The news by the Canada is unimportant. Italian affairs were unchanged.

The Papal army was virtually disbanded. Ancona was besieged and blockaded.

Garibaldi was preparing to march against Capua.

He had again said he would only proclaim the Kingdom of Naples from Rome.

Paris Bourse had advanced half per cent value. Rumors existed in England of unsatisfactory China news, via Russia.

GREAT BRITIAN.—The Queen and Prince Albert were embarking at Gravesend for Antwerp on the day the Canada left. The weather was again unfavorable for crops.—On the 22d Garibaldi's troops had disembarked at the mouth of the Garigliano and intercepted communications of Royal troops between Capua and Gaeta: Garabildi had been to Palermo and published a proclamation to the inhabitants, repeating that he will only proclaim to the inhabitants at Rome the Constitution and Kingdom, and will accomplish the amalgamation at Dresden:

MONETARY.

TUESDAY P. M., October 2, 1860.

The banks report a heavy demand for Currency to-day, chiefly from produce customers, but, without an exception, we believe the offerings of that description of paper were all taken. Th y expect a very large demand from the same source for the next four weeks, and under the circumstances are not disposed to discount other classes of paper to any great extent. Exchange was more plenty at ¾ ₱ cent premium; buying at ½ premium.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.

The Press & Tribune of this morning says:

Exchange continues weak at 1 ₱ cent premium. The current rate has been maintained during the day at the banks, but some of them cancelled ½@¾ on round lots, while others held it firmly at the full price. In the street ¾@¾ were the figures. The banks paid ½@¾; the latter to customers

Good buying 1 ₱ cent; selling 1¼. The demand is not heavy, but the supply is also light.

The banks have an abundance of means to take all the produce paper that offers. In all respects the market is becoming easier.

Receipts of wheat to-day are 88,119 bush; shipments 127,100 bus. The North American's advices from Liverpool to the 21st, were telegraphed from Farther Point this morning. The substance of her commercial news is that breadstuffs were firm at the advance reported by the last steamer, although the weather had been favorable for harvesting. On the strength of this intelligence prices of wheat went up 1@1½c in our market with large transactions, but subsequently receded ½@1c, on receipt of despatches from New York, closing very quiet. The sales exceeded 100,000 bus at 91¾@92½c for No. 1 spring in store; 90c for No. 2 in store; 94@95c for Club and Extra Club delivered, and $1,05 for choice white winter, closing at 91¾ for No. 1. The large amount offered at the advance was one of the causes of the reaction in the market. Flour was a shade better, and sales of about 600 bbls were reported at $4 50@4,60 for good to choice Extras. The receipts foot up 2,225 bbls. Coarse grains were neglected.

Freights were firmer early in the day, but later declined ½. The bark Woodruff and brig Sir Chas. Napier were chartered at 9c for wheat to Port Sarnia —equivalent to 18c to Oswego; the schrs. Barbarian and Col. A. B. Williams to Oswego at 10c; and the James Christie to Buffalo at 18½c. Two vessels were offered at 18c on Chicago, but we did not hear of their being engaged.

Later Foreign News.—Since writing the above we have two days later news from Liverpool by the steamer Canada. Flour is reported steady, wheat firm at the previous advance, and corn 6d higher. Weather unsettled.

GAMBLING THE REPORTS.

Chicago dealers dislike very much to see Milwaukee wheat bringing from 2 to 5c more in New York than Chicago wheat, but they dislike a great deal more to see the fact announced in every market report that issues from the commercial metropolis of the nation. It has always been an unanswerable argument against the self-styled "grain mart of the Northwest," and no device has been left untried to deprive Milwaukee of her proper credit in this respect, but all to no purpose. "Milwaukee Club" continues to figure more and more conspicuously every succeeding month in all the eastern markets; its fame has even crossed the Atlantic, and it is now as familiarly known in Liverpool as in New York.

This is all very provoking to Chicago, and the Eastern there are determined that if European and Eastern buyers will persist in paying 3 to 5c more for Milwaukee than for Chicago wheat, the people in the country who send their wheat to Chicago shall not be told of it through their agency at least, and hence we find that in their daily circulars wherever "Milwaukee Club" occurs in the New York reports they substitute "North-western Club"—a fictitious grade which they have been endeavoring to establish for the past three years. It is composed chiefly of south-western Illinois wheat, and New York dealers who fully understand the difference in qualities do not therefore choose to sell it what it is not, "North-western Club."

The attempt on the part of the Chicago wheat dealers to deprive Milwaukee of her proper credit by garbling the New York reports, is a piece of meanness that honest business men would to be ashamed of.

SEPTEMBER RECEIPTS.

The following table shows the receipts of flour and grain at Chicago during the month of September for a series of years:

	1860.	1859.	1858.	1857.	1856.
Flour..	88,050	180,023	99,592	50 141	67,899
Wheat.	3,269,186	2,295,526	1,875,099	2,303,197	2,155,711
Corn,bu	501,178	979,015	1,375,959	626,105	1,727,668
Oats, bu	202,681	257,620	93,313	151,425	327,141
Rye, bu	50,598	56,015	....	.....	.....
Barley.	92,989	91,382	51,810	.....	.....

From the above table, it will be seen that the receipts of wheat during the past month, are larger by one million bushels than ever before in the history of Chicago during the corresponding period. The increase, however, is not relatively so great as in the receipts at Milwaukee. Our receipts for the month amount to 2, 128,584 bushels, including flour, and the increase in wheat alone over the corresponding month last year is 766,386 bus. The receipts of flour at Chicago for the month, it will be seen, are about 42,000 bbls less than last year. In the receipts here there is an increase of 5,000 bbls. Taking wheat and flour together the increase in the receipts for the month at Chicago is equal to 352,935 bushels, and at Milwaukee to 787,680 bus. But this does not fairly exhibit the relative growth of the trade of the two cities; Chicago gets the bulk of her wheat for a season in a very short period and mostly in the Fall. In the country tributary to this city it takes much longer time to move the crop because there are not yet as many railroads in this State as in Illinois, and none in Minnesota or Northern Iowa. Our receipts will probably be large until well on to next harvest time, and although we have not received as much wheat as Chicago during the past month, we still adhere to the opinion that our receipts for the year ending next August will largely exceed the receipts at Chicago for the year.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

This institution is in a flourishing condition, numbering about one hundred and sixty active, paying members, mostly produce dealers. At the semi-annual meeting last night, CARLTON HOLLAND was re-elected Wheat Inspector, and the former Committee of Arbitration was also re-elected. The names of some fifteen new members were added to the list.

NOT TO BLAME.

The omission of the receipts by the Watertown road yesterday, was not the fault of the Clerk, as we unjustly intimated, but was owing to the delay of one of the trains by running off the track. We cheerfully make the correction.

EXPORTS OF PRODUCE.

The exports of produce from New York continue to increase with each week, and the amount, exclusive of specie, now exceeds that of 1859 for the same period, $18,500,000, and for the corresponding period in 1858 is $20,000,000. The value of exports of wheat and flour to Great Britain last week was $1,953,000, the greatest for the season, although the advices from abroad reported a decline in the English markets.

SHIPMENTS FROM PRESCOTT.

The shipments of wheat from Prescott, Pierce Co., on the Mississippi, last week, amounted to 9,457 bushels, of which 8,470 bushels were shipped to Milwaukee and 987 bushels to Chicago.

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The receipts of wheat to-day were again liberal, amounting to 133,819 bus. The market opened very quiet, and the tendency was downward, till the Glasgow was telegraphed, with Liverpool dates to the 20th, reporting unfavorable weather and a slight advance in all descriptions of breadstuffs. This news at once stiffened the market, which became buoyant and active, and closed firm at an advance of 2c ₱ bushel.—About 200,000 bus of all kinds changed hands at 89@90c for Northwestern Club; 87@88c for No. 1 Spring; 81@85½c for No. 2 do; and 77@78c for Reject-d.—The flour market was quiet and there was no material change in prices; although after the steamer's news, holders were firmer. About 1,500 bbls were sold, at $4,40@4,75 for medium to choice Spring extras. Corn was quiet but firm, with a fair demand, and sales of about 30,000 bus at 40½@41c for No. 2 Canal afloat; 40 for No. 1; and 39c for No. 2. Oats were neglected and dull, with sales of 17,000 bus at 24c afloat. Rye in better request and firm at 56c in store. The receipts of barley were upwards of 10,000 bus, and the market, in consequence, was rather dull, with sales of No. 2 at 62½@63c in store, and by sample at 64@69c on track. Highwines steady at 19@19½c. Brooms corn was in good supply, at $55@70 for fair to prime. Timothy seed was heavy, and the sales were at a range of $2,13@2,16.

There was but a limited demand for freight room, and freights were quiet. Only two sail vessels were engaged, at 18c for wheat to Kingston, and 20c to Oswego.
